RECTORATE REFLECTION

Bearing Fruit

Dr. (Hon) Jonathan L. Parapak, M.Eng.Sc.

I invite all readers to praise the Lord and thank the ever-loving God, for only because of His grace we can hold our XXXIII graduation ceremony. There are 269 Teachers College teachers and 37 International Teachers College teachers ready to be sent out to schools under the Pelita Harapan Educational Foundation spread across different regions. We thank God for the 1985 graduates serving in healthcare, law, political and social areas, business, science, and art and design also ready to be sent out to serve. Today, we send our graduates into a world of challenges, and of rapid change – a world that is in the middle of a moral crisis, environmental crisis, radicalism, intolerance, riots, and hatred – and also a world of incredibly rapid technological developments. We send out these graduates in the hopes that every one of them can be "agents of transformation", spreading light and hope. We hope that graduates can always bring along UPH's vision with them: true knowledge, faith in Christ, and Godly character. We are sent into this world to bring light into the dark world and to be a salt for a morally broken world. By always holding on to the Lord as our Source of life, we will be able to always bear much fruit for the glory of God.

UPH Surabaya Campus looks to train a breed of young generation that is creative, to become future leaders through entrepreneurship. One of the eye-catching entrepreneurship projects were initiated by four Management students in UPH Surabaya's Business School - Yonathan Billy, Theodorus William Kristanto, Christian Torang, and Cleofilo Harseldy. They made a healthy body wash using natural ingredients like Charcoal, Himalayan Salt, Honey, Chlorophyll, and a variety of organic oils. The healthy body wash "Evic Bodycare" is received well by the market - in four months, the students sold over 100 items.

This product as the result of a project of the Entrepreneurship class, and these students are looking to develop this business more professionally. In fact, they have begun to develop different product varieties and packaging. All of this is done in hopes of developing brand awareness and brand value among the general population, so that people can start to realize the importance of using organic body care products, especially those made locally.

Soon, they will begin their BPOM licensing and will also test their products to guarantee the organic ingredients, so that they can get into the market along with products from other countries. In the future, after obtaining their license, "Evic Bodycare" will be marketed through social media and the marketplace.

Dr. (HC.) Mochtar Riady Creativity as a Key to Success

Developments in technology are able to change humans' lives. We used to walk on foot, but now we can cover long distances with newly-invented modes of transportation. Currency, something that used to only be a means of transaction, is now really important in our lives – it can even be a weapon in economical battles.

We can also learn from the success story of Jack Ma, who invented payment systems via our smartphones through alipay. Indonesia should be proud and can learn from Dr. Mochtar Riady's success story – when he developed a number of banks that manage to become large brands like Panin Bank, Bank Kemakmuran, Bank Buana, and Bank BCA. This is a valuable lesson for students to learn from, in their road towards success. It needs 50 years to develop a bank and to make it truly successful.

He possesses a skill that other bankers do not have – money flow. In addition, he is the first Indonesian to establish a bank overseas. What is the key: creativity. When running a business, you need a large capital – and this is not about money. You need to have a creativity, which will set us apart from other people around us."

Dr. (HC.) Mochtar Riady when Giving Speech at the XXXIII UPH Graduation Ceremony
